

The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice Presents a Talk with Judith Freidenberg

CONTEMPORARY CONVERSATIONS ON IMMIGRATION IN THE UNITED STATES:
THE VIEW FROM PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY, MARYLAND

“By centering her narrative on migrant's voices and testimonies, Freidenberg provides a textured analysis of the larger structures, histories, and contexts that affect contemporary immigration. The result is a welcomed antidote to the homogenizing narratives on immigration that dominate public debate and existing scholarship.”

— Arlene Davila, New York University

Please Join Us

Wednesday, November 15, 12:00 PM

Science West 301

Rockville Campus

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Judith Noemí Freidenberg, Professor Emerita of anthropology at the University of Maryland is the director of The Anthropology of the Immigrant Life Course Research Program.

