Here's How It Works

MCAP challenges you to learn essential business concepts through relevant coursework and dynamic opportunities, such as investigating real-world corporations like Google and Facebook, writing a business plan, and examining today's social and corporate ethics.

As an MCAP student, you take classes online, on campus, or both. With guidance and support from Montgomery College advisers, you advance academically on pace with a full-time student toward the end goal: an associate's degree in business and transfer to a four-year college or university.

As a member of a "cohort," you progress through the program with familiar faces and similar goals. Proven particularly effective for adult learners, the cohort model has already proven successful for hundreds of Montgomery College students.
