Germantown Campus

Bioscience Education Center (BE) • BE 151

Dr. Myrna Goldenberg is the founding director of the Paul Peck Humanities Institute and a Professor Emerita from Montgomery College in Maryland. Goldenberg's research explores Holocaust and Genocide studies, gender and the Holocaust and American Jewish women's literature and history. She has been one of the leading scholars studying Women and the Holocaust, and is the editor of a recent collection of essays on the subject Before All Memory is Lost: Women's Voices from the Holocaust (©2017, The Azrieli Foundation).

Goldenberg's anthology, Before All Memory is Lost: Women's Voices from the Holocaust, gathers and amplifies the voices of 25 Canadian Holocaust survivors—women who spent their war years in hiding, passing as non-Jews, in labor concentration and death camps in Europe or the Soviet Union. Alongside the horrific and devastating circumstances they speak too of cooperation and caring, and of challenges they encountered as women and as Jews. Before All Memory is Lost has been awarded the 2017 Canadian Jewish Book Award, and was a finalist for the 2017 National Jewish Book Award.
