A COLLABORATION BETWEEN

Join your colleagues for a NISOD/ACUE Seminar, co-hosted by Montgomery College!

The Seminar, “Engaging and Supporting Underprepared Students,” focuses particularly on how faculty members can help students become more self-directed in their learning through clear expectations, guided learning, reflection opportunities, exemplars, and academic support resources.

Participants will:

- Learn strategies for supporting the success of all students, including those who may seem underprepared for their particular course or for college-level work in general.
- Select a practice you are most interested in implementing and learn the requirements for writing a quality, rubric-aligned reflection.
- Leave the Seminar and be able to implement new instructional practices in their classes.
