

Promoting Global Awareness Through Diversity, Inclusion and Cross-Cultural Understanding

BUILDING A CULTURE OF RESPECT:

Enriching Minds, Engaging Hearts, Creating Global Community

2017 Student and Alumni Colloquium

CALL FOR PROJECTS AND PAPERS

We accept projects and papers from any academic disciplines!

Applicants are encouraged to explore not only issues related to the Arab world, Arab-Americans, and Arabic language, culture, and history, but also broader issues involving multiple cultures such as interfaith relations, religion and faith, migration, understanding cultural differences, service, peace, heritage, identity challenges, social justice and social issues such as gender or disability.

Submissions Deadline: Friday, October 27, 2017

(Expressions of interest outlining proposals recommended to be received by Friday, October 6)

The application guidelines will be available shortly on the program website:

www.montgomerycollege.edu/GlobalNexus

A committee of College faculty and staff will review submissions for selection. Notifications will be emailed to applicants on November 1. Selected projects will be presented at:

STUDENT AND ALUMNI COLLOQUIUM

Tuesday, November 7, 2017, 1:00- 4:00 p.m.

The Science Center, Room 152, Rockville Campus
Montgomery College

Scholarships and certificates will be given to selected participants. Awardees may have the opportunity to publish their work on the Global Nexus program website.

2017 Global Nexus Fall Program at Montgomery College

For more information, visit: www.montgomerycollege.edu/GlobalNexus

Questions? Contact Enas Elhanafi at: Enas.Elhanafi@montgomerycollege.edu