

Women's and Gender Studies Events Spring 2023

March 1st 11- 12 HU 113 (RV) and via zoom (see flyer below): Literary Dialogue Series: Women, Writing, Healing

What aspects of women's identity do they write about and why?

What social aspects inform women's need to write?

A conversation with Professors Shweta Sen (English and Reading) and Leah Sneider (English and Reading and Women's and Gender Studies)

March 6 12 pm - 1:30 pm SW 301 (RV) Guest Speaker, Elisabeth Griffith, a notable scholar of women's history: "Formidable Women Advancing Women's Rights" (Sponsored by Humanities Division, History and Political Science Departments)

March 9 -31st: Film Festival

Join Global Humanities Institute and Women and Gender Studies Program to Celebrate Women's History Month with films from around the world. Each film will be introduced, and a discussion will follow. Most importantly, there will be snacks and drinks. Please feel free to bring your classes or offer extra credit. Many of these films will be streamed via Zoom as well.

Most of these films will take place in the Institute for Race, Justice, and Civic Engagement in P4 on the second floor.

<https://www.montgomerycollege.edu/special-programs/institute-for-race-justice-civic-engagement/index.html>.

March 19th 2:00 pm (runs from March 10th-25th): WGSP Day at the Theater!

Join faculty and students in watching The Storehouse play by Joanna Castle Miller at the Silver Spring Black Box Theater <https://perispheretheater.com/> WGSP has limited free tickets! Contact Genevieve Carminati to reserve and pick up yours:

Genevieve.carminati@montgomerycollege.edu

The play is about Harriet Jacobs' attempt to receive assistance from Harriet Beecher Stowe in the publication of her memoir. It foregrounds themes of race, class, gender, and agency. The story has local and national relevance. Stowe's book, Uncle Tom's Cabin, was written with Montgomery County's Josiah Henson as an inspiration.

March 22 from 12-1 pm via zoom: "Femme Power: Women on the Margins Making History" talk and discussion with Professor Sam Bergmann, GT ZOOM:
<https://montgomerycollege.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJIkcO6gpjMoG9KdLZhiBazSFUycOM41VWUN>

March 29 5:30-7:30 pm via zoom: Annual Student Scholarship Reception

April 26 2:30-4 pm via zoom: "The Psychology of Anti-LGBTQ+ Prejudice and Violence" by Prof. Sam Bergmann, GT
ZOOM: <https://montgomerycollege.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJcqdo-qpj8pG9IilCD8uvrMCRFDGrZPeZyR>

Literary Dialogue Series

Women, Writing, Healing

A conversation with Professors Shweta Sen (English) and Leah Sneider (English and Women's and Gender Studies)

How does writing help women heal and from what in particular?
What social aspects inform women's need to write?

Wednesday, March 1st

11 am - 12 pm

HU 113 (RV) and via Zoom

<https://montgomerycollege.zoom.us/j/94381189259>

Sponsored by MC English and Reading and Women's and Gender Studies
Email leah.sneider@montgomerycollege.edu with questions

