

So MUCH TO READ!!

An advanced reading skills workshop especially for nursing students

Thursday, Sept. 14th
12:30-4:30 p.m. in HC 122

Offered by the Writing, Reading and Language Center, TP/SS Campus

Do you sometimes

- Fail to do assigned reading because there is so much to read?
- Do your readings, but then find you have not understood the main points?
- Have trouble telling what is important and what is not in a reading?
- Finish a reading, but find you cannot remember what you have read?
- Have difficulty knowing how to take notes on a reading or how to mark a text?
- Have trouble figuring out how to study so much material when it comes time to prepare for a test?

This advanced reading skills workshop is for YOU!

Skills practiced (using your textbook) will help you better understand and remember what you read. Skills include

- Prereading
- Skimming
- Figuring out what is important
- Annotating (marking) a text
- Summarizing
